Guidance for sending your potato sample for post-harvest virus diagnosis to Fera Science

Specific Testing required?

If you do not state any specific testing requirements on this submission form, your sample will undergo an initial assessment for an unknown problem. This will incur our 'Diagnose my Plant' charge and may also lead to further testing.

Details of our most commonly requested tests can be found on our website under the products and services tab here: <https://fera.co.uk/crop-health>

How to package your sample:

- All samples should be packed securely in a paper potato sack fastened with a secure tie
- Include your Sample Submission Form (placed in a separate bag to keep it dry) within your sample packaging

Send your sample to:

Crop Health (Plants)
Fera Science Ltd. (Fera)
National Agri-Food Innovation
Campus Sand Hutton
York
YO41 1LZ
United Kingdom

Ideally, samples should be dispatched by either express courier service or first-class post to arrive at Fera next day. If possible please try to avoid sending samples over the weekend or a bank holiday, however if unavoidable mark the outer packaging with 'Please refrigerate on arrival' if necessary.
